

Author Eve Wilson of Bridge to Wholeness to be Featured on CUTV News Radio

ANN ARBOR, MICHIGAN, UNITED STATES, October 3, 2018

/EINPresswire.com/ -- Winner of an international award for her healing blog, exceptional Author Healer Teacher Eve Wilson helps us ride the waves of change in our lives with confidence and skill.

In a world which sometimes seems like it has gone crazy, Eve shows how this is the breaking down of the old to make room for the new. According to her book Riding the Wave of Change – Hope, Healing and Spiritual Growth for Our World everything is on track and for a big positive shift.

Owner of the healing practice Bridge to Wholeness, Eve's work unites people with their higher selves and true purpose bringing health, inner strength and fulfillment. It is who you are, not who you know or what you have that brings security and fulfillment in life. "Each person is a unique facet of the One and absolutely essential to the greater good of all."

"I am inspired by the pure essence of life and love at the core of people and nature and by the wonder of creation," says Eve.

When a young girl Eve was intuitively guided to perform healing work for her dad, who had a massive tumor on his neck that soon dissolved. A few years later she did the same for a woman with advanced cancer. In her mid-twenties Eve became a legal UCM Healer Practitioner and started training Healer Practitioners through her nationally accredited Healer Development Program.

"It is time for us to realize we are eternal spiritual beings having a human experience, and because of that we are eternally safe and unbreakable."

According to Eve the world is making a momentous shift she calls ascension; moving out of the state of deep separation into a greater unity with higher self. This is causing a period of profound change as we prepare to enter a new experience of unconditional love and co-creation with the Higher Power.

Eve wants to share her experience with us. She says "It is exciting as a Healing and Ascension

Worker to partner with the Higher Power and see how our world is being born into all the beauty and unconditional love we have longed for since the dawn of time. In my book I tell the story of my experiences and what it is like to see life from a bit closer to a "God's Eye View".

If a child stumbled upon a woman giving birth, they would think that the woman was dying, when in truth something marvelous was going on! Our world is experiencing labor pains. Eve Wilson is a "spiritual midwife" for this process and is able to reassure us that all is well.

CUTV News Radio will feature Eve Wilson in an interview with Jim Masters Friday October 5th at 12 Noon EST and Monday November 5th at 12 Noon EST.
