

Popular Markets for Makers Brings Seminar on Mega Social Media to Clearwater Community Volunteers Center

CLEARWATER, FLORIDA, USA, October 4, 2018 /EINPresswire.com/ -- On the 13th of October, Natalie Nagengast, Founder of Markets for Makers, is partnering with the Clearwater Community Volunteers (CCV) Center to create the center's first mega seminar on using Facebook to promote Not for Profit events. The seminar will show how to use this simple, but powerful, tool to create alluring pages that result in successful charity events. The seminar is free to attend for nonprofit leaders. It will be four hours long, divided into two sessions with a complimentary luncheon in between.

Ms. Nagengast has become skilled in using Facebook and other social media websites to promote her company's events. Her markets transform venues into a composition of artists, or "Makers" who create unique or hard-to-find items drawing thousands of visitors.

Michael Soltero, Manager of the CCV Center, said, "We were established to help nonprofit or volunteer organizations that strive to improve our community and that is why we asked Natalie to share the keys to her successfully promoted national markets with such organizations."

"As humanitarian L. Ron Hubbard once wrote," Soltero said, "'The way to happiness is far more easily followed when one supports people of goodwill.'"
