

PDL ANNOUNCES SPECIALIST CORPORATE INVESTIGATIONS DEPARTMENT

Established private investigation company PDL has announced the launch of its specialist corporate investigations service this month.

LONDON, UK, October 10, 2018 /EINPresswire.com/ -- PDL's corporate-focused private investigators now form the service dedicated to working with UK and international businesses. From fraud investigations, to due diligence, to surveillance and counter-surveillance, the team offers a range of corporate investigation services with emphasis on quality of service, ethics and legality.

PDL continues to offer its services to private individual clients on matrimonial and issues, but its corporate investigative services will now be handled by this specialist new department. The investigators' backgrounds - including police, fraud squad, banking and specialised advisory roles - mean their skills are highly relevant and important to the corporate work they do. The investigators are selected not only on this basis, but also on their integrity and ethics which are without exception, PDL's primary concern.

We're delighted to be launching our specialised corporate investigations department. We're looking to build on our many years of great work helping UK and international companies”
