

Restaurant Magic Promotes Mike Costanza to DevOps Senior Manager

Restaurant Magic is excited to announce the recent promotion of Mike Costanza to DevOps Senior Manager.

TAMPA, FL, USA, October 10, 2018 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Restaurant Magic is excited to announce

Mike Costanza is a person who has the innate ability to make the impossible possible"

Erynn Krishner, VP of Operations at Restaurant Magic the recent promotion of one of their existing team members, Mike Costanza, to DevOps Senior Manager. DevOps is a trending practice in the market that unifies software development and operations. Mr. Costanza was selected for this role because of his broad skills spanning development, operations, security, infrastructure, and support. His new responsibilities will include providing leadership to delivery teams, rolling out new tools and development techniques, and automating processes where appropriate.

The DevOps Senior Manager is a new position at Restaurant Magic and has been developed based on the company's recent growth. Prior to being promoted, Mr. Costanza was the Senior Innovation Strategist for Restaurant Magic and focused his energy and leadership in the product areas of data integrations, APIs, EDI, process engineering, custom development solutions, security and infrastructure.

"Mike Costanza is a person who has the innate ability to make the impossible possible" said Erynn Krishner, VP of Operations at Restaurant Magic. "He has skills spanning all areas and loves strategically thinking about process and automation. This is a well-deserved promotion and I am confident that he will rock it!"
