

Education and Socializing with Neighbors at the Scientology Information Center's Tea Social

CLEARWATER, FLORIDA, USA, October 11, 2018 /EINPresswire.com/ -- The Scientology Information Center in downtown Clearwater is hosting a series of tea parties where people can "sip and learn." The events allow the community to enjoy tea, scones, pastries, clotted cream and jam while socializing. In addition, guests will view episodes from the Scientology TV Network which feature stories on the Church's humanitarian activities, Scientologists from all walks of life and behind the scenes views of Scientology churches and organizations in various parts of the world.

"Tea drinking and tea socials go back at least 5,000 years," said Amber Skjelset, Manager of the Scientology Information Center. "Today, there are thousands of teas, and it's the most widely consumed beverage in the world next to water. Tea can be found in almost 80% of all U.S. households."

Ms. Skjelset welcoming the guests at Scientology Information Center. The Center hosts regular events and receptions for members of the community and is open daily from 10am-10pm for self-guided informational tours. No appointment is necessary to visit

"People of all ages and all backgrounds usually find something they have in common and connect over tea," said Skjelset. "In a book from 1893, Etiquette of Good Society by Lady

Gertrude Elizabeth Campbell she said, 'A tea, of whatever kind, may be made one of the most agreeable of meals; for tea always seems to produce sociability, cheerfulness, and vivacity.'"

It's a great way to bring the community together and have them enjoy themselves while learning about other people and things in life."

Scientology Info Center Manager*

"This Center is here for learning about new things," said Ms. Skjelset. "It is a beautiful, unique place that provides information for the community about our beliefs, social betterment programs, Churches around the world and the life of the Founder of Scientology Founder, Mr. L. Ron Hubbard. We also host community events such as these educational teas, music events and theatrical performances. It's a great way to bring the community together and have them enjoy themselves while learning about other people and things in life."
