“Being close to our clients matters and providing the best quality nutrients is above all the most important. Advanced Nutrients produces the world’s first and only complete cannabis growing system, with products available in more than 100 countries. “Advanced Nutrients is the home of exhaustive research, proven science, and extraordinary yields,” BigMike says. “We’ve created a range of products to suit all growers' needs, whether growing traditionally or organically." Over the course of two decades, Advanced Nutrients has created dozens of powerful grow formulas designed to fulfill the changing needs of crops throughout the vegetative and bloom stages.

After noticing that fertilizers sold by other brands failed to maximize the profit potential of high-value gardens, BigMike, along with his team of dedicated scientists, discovered that most fertilizers lacked the correct levels, ratios and types of quality components most useful for crops. He then sought to make better products available for cannabis cultivators. "Our products make it easier and less expensive for growers to grow bigger and better crops. If you want to grow the best, grow with the best," BigMike says.

Driven by his passion to understand and unlock the true genetic potential of cannabis at the microscopic level, BigMike next created Lacturnus Labs, a $20 million, 50,000-square-foot state-of-the-art cannabis research facility in Los Angeles.

BigMike also devotes a significant amount of his time and resources to promoting the medical benefits of cannabis and expanding the cannabis community in positive ways, like mentoring aspiring cannabis entrepreneurs through The Next Marijuana Millionaire™, his new reality competition show for cannabis entrepreneurs, and Business Outlaws, the podcast in which he and co-host Chris "Bulldog" Collins discuss unconventional business-building strategies and the challenges entrepreneurs face.

"I'm driven by my mission to make cannabis an acceptable and everyday part of healing humanity," BigMike says.
