The Israeli-born, Los Angeles-based musician, producer, and DJ maintains a diversified discography with each release this year. With tracks spanning dubstep, electronic, big room, bass, jazz, and most recently trap, Borgore proves his expertise through fluidly merging sub-genres and pivoting between genres altogether.

"This entire year I've put out very different styles of music, that I haven't repeated. For this EP I wanted to continue that and show the diverse music I was creating. I don't like keeping myself or my music fixed in a certain space- I produce and release what I'm feeling or inspired by. "MOP" came at a great time as I hadn't released a hip-hop track in a while. I stuck to my core with "Are You Sure Now? - probably one of the heaviest bass tracks I've released. But "On The Side (ft. Tima Dee)" was very different, in a good way, and a bit pop-ier than what I'm used to." - Borgore

Borgore is in the final stretch of his fall North American headline run, the "BGU Tour" with special guests GG Magree and Benda.
