

Meetings with Balinese Philosophy of Life at The Ritz-Carlton, Bali

NUSA DUA, BALI, INDONESIA, October 16, 2018 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Enhanced your meeting experience at The Ritz-Carlton, Bali with the resort's new offering: Tri Hita Karana, based on three fundamental philosophy of Balinese life. It translates loosely as: harmony with God, harmony with humankind and harmony with nature making this award winning beachfront resort as the best meeting venue on the island.

With its excellent meeting spaces, conference venue, superb location and innovative programs that harness the spirit of Bali and give guests a unique insight into traditional life on the island, this incentive program includes a Soul Purification Ritual, fun Team Building Activities and a fascinating Chefs Garden Tour and Cooking Class. The Balinese believe that maintaining the balance between spiritual and physical worlds is the key to wellbeing and prosperity.

This inspiring new program has been thoughtfully created to reflect the valuable Balinese philosophy Tri Hita Karana and to motivate, enthuse and reward individuals and teams.”

Karim Tayach

Channeling the notion of harmony with God, the traditional Soul Purification Ritual is led by a Balinese priest at sunrise and includes an offering of devotion, following by a ritual with holy water to cleanse the body, mind and soul.

Herbs and spices play an important part in Balinese cuisine as well as traditional medicine, and guests can learn all about this in the Chef's Garden Tour where they will collect ingredients for a casual and informative Balinese cooking class. The notion of community lies at the heart of Balinese heritage cuisine and traditionally a whole village will come together to prepare feasts for celebrations and holy days. Guests can enjoy this communal spirit as they create their own feast of classic Balinese dishes for lunch at the Culinary Cave.

The aspect of harmony with humankind is also witnessed in the strong sense of community on the island and inspires the program's enjoyable Team Building activities. The resort's secluded white sand beach is ideal for traditional games and low impact beach games like sack races, tug of war and marble and spoon races.

your next incentive trip is a resounding success,” says General Manager Karim Tayach.
