

Rhino Hide Announces Bulletproof Wall Filler to Protect Students and Staff from Active Shooters

Groundbreaking new two-part liquid pours into existing walls and hardens to become bulletproof – allows kids and staff to shelter in place until police arrive.

SAGLE, IDAHO, UNITED STATES, October 23, 2018 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Rhino Hide LLC today announced it will launch a line of liquid chemical wall-filler products that turn any classroom into a bulletproof safe-room where children and teachers can instantly shelter in place while waiting for the police to arrive. The projectile-resistant product can also be used to fortify community buildings against storms such as hurricanes or tornadoes.

“I invented Rhino Hide because I have a daughter in high school. I see school shootings occurring more and more frequently. It is sickening to imagine this sort of violence occurring at her school,” said Jason Giddings, Rhino Hide’s CEO. “So far, 256 regular folks have invested over $78,000 in the StartEngine campaign and made it possible to build an entire company to solve this epidemic.”
