

Clearwater's United for Human Rights Center Presents Women's Rights Forum on November 10th

CLEARWATER, FLORIDA, USA, October 25, 2018 /EINPresswire.com/ -- In the quest for universal human rights, women's rights has taken the forefront. To help educate and put forth possible solutions, the United for Human Rights Center, located at 29 N. Fort Harrison Ave. in Clearwater, will be hosting a Forum on women's rights on Saturday, November 10 at 2:00 pm. There is no cost to attend.

"Per a 2015 report, women are paid less than men, in most countries earning on average 60 - 75% of men's wages internationally," said Sanna Heden, the Manager of the United for Human Rights Center. "This isn't just in under-developed countries, this is a fact in the United States, where women make an average of 82 cents for every dollar earned by a man – this is per the US Department of Labor. The Universal Declaration of Human Rights is supposed to guarantee fair pay and defends the fact that we are all born free and equal. Women tend to devalue themselves and their work, and this is what we are working to solve."

United for Human Rights of Florida regularly hosts seminars to raise awareness of basic human rights.
