Feed the hungry

This event is hosted in conjunction with the American Profile Magazine Hometown Heroes, Jim Crosby (Peppermint Jim) and Nick Nicklosovich (Chef Nick), to literally serve up a new take on donation drives, with enough fresh, hot home-cooked soup for over 1,000 people, available for a $5 donation per bowl.

Be sure to bring canned food and dry goods to donate, as donations, proceeds, and extra soup will benefit Feeding America. The Traveling Stone Soup is fighting hunger in a tasty way, with a huge goal of feeding one million Americans through their soup events. They began this effort in 2009 in Michigan before branching out to Arizona, now reaching Wisconsin.

In the 6 years that they have put on these charitable events, they have reached over a quarter of their goal, and impacted hundreds of thousands of individuals in the process. Each community they impact finds it has never been so simple to bring community together and feed the hungry! As Peppermint Jim says, "Gratitude, Keep the Faith and Witness Miracles."

To help feed the hungry in your community, visit the Facebook event page or the Traveling Stone Soup website for more.
