known as "The Iron Man of India", creative genius Wajid collected some iron parts such as scissors, engine part, spring, nuts, bolts, chain, barring, industrial equipment and other automotive parts and transformed it into the great Sardar Vallabh Bhai Patel through its shadow.

Sardar Patel once said "Manpower without unity is not a strength unless it is harmonized and united properly, then it becomes a spiritual power", Wajid follows his footprint and work in team to provide livelihood to humble group of people. Wajid worked for the welfare of underprivileged, needy and socially backward group of people. At present, Wajid has been working with such people in various projects such as iron sculptures of famous personalities including APJ Abdul Kalam and Nelson Mandela. Wajid Khan selflessly teaches various art forms such as spoon art, iron sculpture art, paintings and so forth to economically backward and needy group of people.

I'm greatly influenced by Sardar Vallabh Bhai Patel and his endeavor to make India a great country. This shadow art is my way to express gratitude towards the Iron Man of India. ”
