

Assistant Chief of Staff Information Warfare and Chief Information Officer, Royal Navy to discuss cyber warfare

Smi reports: Royal Navy to discuss Cyber Warfare at the 2nd annual Maritime Information Warfare conference, taking place on the 26th and 27th November 2018

LONDON, WATERLOO, UNITED KINGDOM, November 5, 2018

/EINPresswire.com/ -- As Russia and its military intelligence unit, the GRU, have been accused of a raft of cyber-attacks on targets around the world, senior Royal Navy officials have increased their cyber-space focus more than ever on HMS Queen Elizabeth – 'It is not just about viruses and attacks, it is also about hybrid information warfare' said Commodore Mike Utley [Naval Technology].

With this in mind, Commodore Ian Annett, Assistant Chief of Staff Information Warfare and Chief Information Officer, Royal Navy and other senior Royal Navy officials, will be discussing cyber warfare and overcoming complex threats at SMI's Maritime Information Warfare conference taking place on 26th and 27th November 2018, in London UK.

Other nations presenting:

Belgium, Canada, Finland, Portugal, Spain, United Kingdom, USA and more
