Stonehill Raises Money for USF Health Stroke Research as Part of Its One Percent for the Community Program to Create Healthier, Smarter, and Cleaner Futures

BELLEAIR, FLORIDA, UNITED STATES, November 7, 2018 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Stonehill

As we grow Stonehill, we will continue to invest in causes that create a healthier, smarter, or cleaner future"
Doug Pace, CEO of Stonehill announced today that it successfully hosted a fundraiser for the USF Health Stroke Research Fund this past Thursday. The event was held at Mise en Place restaurant and included presentations about lifesaving work done by USF Health Neurosciences. The presentation included insights from by Clifton Gooch, MD FAAN, Professor and Chair, Department of Neurology, USF Morsani College of Medicine, and W. Scott Burgin, MD, Professor of Neurology, Cerebrovascular Division Chief, Cerebrovascular Fellowship Director, USF College of Medicine.

The fundraiser was underwritten and produced by Stonehill's 1% for the Community program. The program allocates 1% of Stonehill's overall revenue to causes that make for a healthier, smarter, or cleaner future. Over the last 12 months the program has made donations to the the Tampa General Hospital Foundation, The Lions Eye Institute Foundation, The Leukemia and Lymphoma Society, and Tampa Airfest.

Stroke research is a topic close to the hearts of the team at Stonehill Innovation. Its CEO, Doug Pace, is a 2-year stroke survivor and founded Stonehill after his recovery. He founded the company based on values he refined during his recovery – be optimistic, have fun, and help others to be successful. Mr. Pace has been recognized as one of the most influential consultants in the United States by Consulting Magazine and has been a finalist for United States Chamber of Commerce Emerging Business of the Year.

"I am happy that we could help the team at USF Health" said Doug Pace, Founder and CEO of Stonehill. "As we grow Stonehill, we will continue to invest in causes that create a healthier, smarter, or cleaner future."
