Our team usually donates frozen turkeys during the Thanksgiving season to local charitable organizations to later be handed out to disadvantaged families and individuals. . .”

“Our team usually donates frozen turkeys during the Thanksgiving season to local charitable organizations to later be handed out to disadvantaged families and individuals. However, after we experienced first-hand the joy that comes from directly connecting with others at our Tucson Gobbler Giveaway - we decided to host a similar event in Phoenix. We look forward to directly giving back to our neighbors and providing them with a turkey to share with their families and friends during the holiday season,” said attorney Kevin Rowe.
