Megs is no stranger to this seasons NFL audiences having not only kicked off both Monday Night and Thursday Night Football with her “Kick it” spot which featured her breakout single “Its My Truck”, but she also recently was seen promoting Baristas White Coffee during the NFL London game. The new spot features some of her favorite music from her EP “Out of School” shot in her private rehearsal space.

White Coffee is a rarity and is developed using a slow and low heat roast that preserves a much higher caffeine level than a traditional roast. Because the beans have been under-roasted, white coffee has a lighter taste than traditional coffee and is described as both neutral and nutty.

Megs Mclean stated: “Seattle is my home town and I have to put it out there that I am a Seahawks fan true and blue. I am looking forward to fans being able to see the first in a new series of commercials and other promotions I have just completed filming. Seattle based Baristas White coffee is the only coffee that can keep up with me, it’s a tea like flavor, with a monster kick.”
