

SOLD: Messerschmitt Bf-109 G-12. More warbirds available immediately

Boschung Global arranges the sale of an iconic German WWII fighter aircraft

SARNEN, OW, SWITZERLAND,
November 22, 2018 /
EINPresswire.com/ -- Boschung Global Ltd (BGA), a provider of aviation brokerage, acquisition, marketing and consulting services, is pleased to announce the sale of a unique aircraft from their world class warbird inventory, that of an airworthy Messerschmitt Bf109G-12 two seat trainer. This rare version of the Luftwaffe's famous fighter features dual controls and although currently powered by the reliable and easy to maintain Rolls Royce Merlin engine, has the capacity to be fitted with an original Daimler Benz, everything forward of the firewall able to be changed out in a relatively quick process. The aircraft has the potential to offer passenger rides allowing enthusiasts to experience the feeling of flying in the most successful fighter aircraft in history.

It is appropriate that BGA, after having the aircraft advertised for just a few short months, not only found a buyer, but have placed the aircraft with a German based owner. This is a superb outcome, given the aircraft's heritage and that it was formerly taken care of by the largest and finest private collections in the country. This was made possible through the hard work of BGA's highly-qualified warbird professionals who have a decade of experience negotiating both the purchase and sale of exotic aircraft from around the globe through their extensive network, all of which is based on a Company brand which is highly respected. This in turn lends itself to a competitive advantage when it comes to exclusivity; because BGA is trusted to market significant aircraft for its clients as they know that BGA's reputation is second to none. The Company's global market intelligence and flexible options, including the possibility of selling directly to BGA's inventory, means that every possible opportunity is explored in order to satisfy the needs of its clients - no matter if they are selling or buying.

The recently sold Bf109 G-12 was part of the Usedom based The Air Fighter Academy / Hangar 10, which has built up one of the finest collections of classic and warbird aircraft in Europe, operating fighters and trainers from the major combatants which fought in Europe during World War Two. They operate as a living museum and offer rides to the public in some of these. In doing so they honour the young pilots of all nations who flew these types in anger. The collection features such famous fighters as the Spitfire, the Mustang and the Yak, but arguably the pride of place goes to Willy Messerschmitt's legendary creation.

Until this sale, The Air Fighter Academy / Hangar 10 boasted three of Messerschmitt finest, which is good news for those who were thinking about purchasing the two seater but hesitated just that little bit too long!

This is because BGA is also in a position to offer both the Bf109G-6 and the recently flown Bf109G-14 to anyone who is wanting to own the classic fighter model. Both of these aircraft have been rebuilt to exacting standards, are powered by Daimler Benz engines and are the finest examples being offered for sale in decades. It is certain that with the marketing power which has put BGA at the forefront of worldwide warbird sales, that these aircraft will not be available for very long. Whether purchased for the pleasure of flight or for a sound and ever increasing return on an investment, you can be certain that owning any of these aircraft is a smart decision. For those interested in the latter, BGA are able to provide advisory services in order to assist clients with personalized investment strategies on the future marketing of vintage and classic aircraft from the World War II era. Such specialty advice is hugely valuable in making the most of your investment - peace of mind being paramount.

The Air Fighter Academy / Hangar 10 recognise the professionalism of BGA and the value of having such a partner which can develop marketing strategies tailored to their specific needs, backed up by global reach. They are safe in the knowledge that BGA's international team of sales representatives, sales support staff and marketing professionals will 'get the job done.' Consequently BGA are not only able to offer the Messerschmitts, but some of the aforementioned iconic aircraft currently in the collection of Air Fighter Academy / Hangar 10.

The recent sale of the collection's Bf109G-12 proves that Air Fighter Academy / Hangar 10's ongoing confidence in Boschung Global Ltd is well founded!
