Many characteristics of balloons allow them to maintain their position as an effective and fun marketing tool for businesses. This can be due to their bright colors, gleaming material, the fact that they rise in the air and more. Balloons represent novelty and something that is new and interesting.

Bright, positive and novelty are words that are not only associated with balloons, but also with the festive holiday season that is right around the corner. Who doesn't think of the qualities that balloons reflect when imagining the holidays? It is for this reason that using gleaming balloons with your company's trademark goes perfectly with the holidays and holiday-time promotions.

There is no question that custom balloons are an effective and positive medium for promotional messaging, which any one of CSA Balloons' satisfied clients can attest to.

Environmentally Friendly Logo Balloons

The environment of our Earth is a growing concern worldwide. Since the holiday season is all about caring, what better way to show that your company cares about the earth than by ordering environmentally friendly logo balloons? Choosing CSA Balloons' 100% natural latex balloons is the very best way to do this.

"Made from natural and biodegradable latex, our printed balloons are renowned for their superior quality," says the CSA Balloons website. Organic ingredients such as water and latex make up the natural latex balloons. The latex, the central substance, is taken gently from the South American Hevea tree in a process which can be compared to that of maple syrup production from the sap of maple trees.

Latex-Free Printed Balloon Alternatives

Latex-related allergies are becoming more common, and certain public institutions such as schools and hospitals, are deciding against using latex balloons. Luckily, for these cases, CSA Balloons offers 100% recyclable Mylar balloons. These balloons are made from resistant foil, and are not known to cause any allergies. Mylar (or foil) balloons also have a longer duration and floating time of up to several weeks.

Mylar balloons are a crisp and bright alternative for any enterprise during Black Friday events.
