Esaote is a global leader in ultrasound imaging equipment. Health Performance Specialists is excited about the educational and clinical benefits that will be created as an outcome of the partnership."

Chris Pittman, M.D., DABR, FACPh, Managing Director

Specialists (HPS) announced today that it has entered a strategic partnership with Esaote Group. The partnership encourages and promotes the utilization of optimal ultrasound imaging in vein care clinics and vascular surgery practices. The agreement includes many benefits for the network physicians within Health Performance Specialists including special pricing on Esaote products, preferred leasing terms, and exclusive marketing opportunities. In addition, select HPS physicians will have the opportunity to become technical advisors, luminaries, and Centers of Excellence for Esaote products.

The Esaote Center of Excellence program will be unique and specific to this partnership. Chris Pittman, M.D., DABR, FACPh, Managing Director of Health Performance

Specialists and the Medical Director and CEO of Vein911® Vein Treatment Centers, will work directly with Esaote to develop best practices using Esaote vascular ultrasound applications. Physicians and Ultrasound Technologists from around the world will have the ability to visit the Centers to enhance their clinical skills and improve their diagnostic and procedural vascular imaging techniques.

Esaote will work with Dr. Pittman and other HPS physician luminaries to design and deliver hands on scanning workshops and educational events at national medical meetings including the American College of Phlebology Annual Congress, HPS peer roundtable meetings, and other medical organizations.

"Esaote is a global leader in ultrasound imaging equipment and Health Performance Specialists is excited about the educational and clinical benefits that will be created as an outcome of this partnership" said Chris Pittman, M.D., DABR, FACPh, Managing Director of Health Performance Specialists.
