

VegaWallet to Offer Advanced Payment Processing Capabilities from North American Bancard.

VegaWallet will now offer North American Bancard's 'PayAnywhere' terminals and applications to all merchants in their payment platform network.

PHILADELPHIA, PENNSYLVANIA, UNITED STATES, November 28, 2018 /EINPresswire.com/ -- VegaWallet today announced the offering of North American Bancard's payment processing technology for traditional payment processing. VegaWallet merchants will be granted the ability to use one of many smart terminal solutions offered through PayAnywhere, specifically the PayAnywhere Smart Terminal. All supplied terminals will allow businesses residing in the United States to accept payments through EMV chip card, NFC contactless and magstripe reader, or via PIN debit capability. Businesses can also download the VegaWallet and PayAnywhere software onto any capable Android or IOS device.

The PayAnywhere PAX A920 Smart Terminal is just one of many options for businesses in VegaWallet's merchant network

Running your business has never been easier! VegaWallet combined with PayAnywhere gives our merchants more options than ever before.”

Jacob Ballou : Co-Founder of VegaWallet

Businesses will be able to sign-up for this service starting next week and can expect terminal shipments immediately. Placing terminals in retail locations, while development of VegaWallet's platform is finalized, helps to create a payment network for future users of blockchain-based payment systems.
