

Fizzing, Cool, and Ahead of Deadline

The Fizzing Bottle might be the hydration gadget you didn't even know you needed.

WEST COVINA, CALIFORNIA, UNITED STATES, November 29, 2018 /EINPresswire.com/ -- The Fizzing Bottle Exceeds Expectations.

The Fizzing.Cool company today announced that the Kickstarter campaign for their flagship Fizzing Bottle product and its cousin, the Flipping Bottle, had exceeded their funding goal by more than double.

As of press time, the bottle project is 279% funded by 1,051 backers and still has eighteen days to go. This is exciting news for the small team with big ideas, as they can provide even more products, services, and smiles to backers than initially planned. With over $83,000 in the bag, the company is looking forward to a future of providing fizzing satisfaction to consumers while coming up with creative new ideas along the way.

For those not in the know, the Fizzing Bottle is a revolutionary new system which allows people on the go to carbonate drinks in a way similar to a home carbonation system. Its unique design offers two openable ends; one for fizzing, one for drinking, and both for easy cleaning at the end of the day. The bottle is also compatible with nitro cartridges for a smoother, creamier beverage.

Black Coating Fizzing Bottle

What truly stands out about the Fizzing Bottle, when compared to other devices in the at-home carbonation, is that it's not just at home, it's on the go. It can be taken wherever the user likes as it fits into a bag or a hand for an active lifestyle. Beyond that, it's the first system to use a fixed-dose system, meaning that you know exactly how much carbonation you're getting with every twist of the knob connected to the cartridge. No guessing on the road. Twist clockwise for a fixed injection of fizz, and counter-clockwise to determine your own level. The choice is up to

This goes to show that was once thought of as something that could only be done in a factory can not only become a user-friendly option, but that, like all technology, it can evolve with time, and that's exactly what Fizzing.Cool aimed to do. Judging by the response, their idea turned out to be a massive success.

In the future it's believed that the Fizzing Bottle will come in more colors and involve more accessories, allowing unique hydration solutions for the unique lifestyle of everyone looking to keep it cool.
