"Clint and his experienced team will add immense benefit to our customers and partners in the Southeast," said Kyle Parker, Vice President, Americas Sales. "COM-TECH will bring key sales resources to assist John Bujarski's regional team in spreading the good word about the new Arecont Vision Costar, and our expanded product and services portfolio."

“

We sought a strong manufacturing partner in the video surveillance market, and found just that in Arecont Vision Costar, a company that manufactures the majority of its products here in the USA"

Clint Webster, President, COM-TECH Systems, Inc.

COM-TECH Systems, Inc. is proven throughout the Carolinas in the sale of structured cabling, data center and audio/visual products, and security technology. It supports customers through three regions, those being Charlotte/Western North Carolina, Raleigh/Eastern North Carolina, and South Carolina. Arecont Vision Costar will be the company's lead video surveillance offering through this partnership.

"We sought a strong manufacturing partner in the video surveillance market, and found just that in Arecont Vision Costar, a company that manufactures the majority of its products here in the USA," stated Clint Webster, President,

COM-TECH Systems, Inc. "We look forward to working with the regional sales team to provide better customer service and support to systems integrators, security dealers, and consultants across the region."

"We are pleased that we were able to engage with a proven manufacturer's representative firm for the region," stated John Bujarski, Senior Sales Director, Eastern US and Canada. "COM-TECH Systems, Inc. will make a big difference to our end user customers, integrators, and other security professionals across the Carolinas with increased sales support and project assistance."
