

Matthew Bogard, MD completes Iowa Emergency Medical Services Medical Director Training

Board Certified Doctor with extensive skills in emergency medicine now able to serve as Medical Director to EMS agencies

CHARITON, IOWA, UNITED STATES, December 4, 2018 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Doctor Matthew Bogard, Board Certified in Family Medicine and Board Eligible in Emergency Medicine, recently completed advanced training presented by the Iowa Bureau of Emergency and Trauma Services with an eye toward providing additional services to EMS agencies in rural locations.

The single day course reviewed Iowa Code governing Emergency Medical Services, types of agencies and classifications of responders, additional resources necessary for Critical Care Transport Services, and the importance of an EMS Contingency Plan. Training was also provided regarding the Iowa EMS provider scope of practice.

Doctor Matt Bogard MD Emergency Medicine

“

we rely on EMS services to not only transport patients to the Emergency Room but also transfer them elsewhere... It is important to have a strong and supportive working relationship”

Dr. Matthew Bogard, Emergency Physician

According to Dr. Bogard, “Emergency Medicine doctors interact with first responders, Emergency Medical Technicians, and Paramedics on a daily basis. We receive patients they have evaluated and cared for, often providing lifesaving treatments. In many cases, we rely on EMS services to not only transport patients to the Emergency Room but also transfer them elsewhere, sometimes over great distances. It is important to have a strong and supportive working relationship with the Emergency Medical Services departments in the areas you work.”

About Dr. Matthew Bogard

A native of Omaha, Nebraska, Dr. Matt Bogard practices emergency medicine at multiple hospitals including Lucas County Health Center in Chariton, Iowa. Presently, he is Board Certified in Family Medicine by the National Board of Physicians and Surgeons and the American Academy of Family Physicians. Dr. Bogard is Board-Eligible in Emergency Medicine and is on pace track to be dual-boarded in the near future.

His training as a medical professional began at Creighton University, from which he graduated cum laude as a Bachelor of Science in Health Administration and Policy with an additional focus in Biology. Following this, Dr. Matthew Bogard received his Doctor of Medicine from the University of Nebraska College of Medicine and gained further experience as a resident physician and later chief resident physician in the Department of Family Medicine at the prestigious University of Nebraska Medical Center.

In addition to treating patients at the Lucas County Health Center, Dr. Matthew Bogard serves rural Iowans and Nebraskans at hospitals which include Knoxville Area Community Hospital, CHI Missouri Valley, Burgess Memorial Hospital, OrthoNebraska Hospital, and IHS Winnebago Hospital.

In his free time, Dr. Bogard enjoys piloting his Piper Comanche. He also keeps active via running and bicycling.

References

<https://matthewbogardmd.blogspot.com/>

News: <https://hype.news/dr-matthew-bogard/>

LinkedIn Profile:

<https://www.linkedin.com/in/matthewbogard/>

<https://attorneygazette.com/matthew-bogard%2C-md#7244cab0-d3fa-44b9-8632-6f83b0524da4>

Matthew Bogard, MD

Matthew Bogard, MD

+1 (641) 774-3000

email us here

Visit us on social media:

LinkedIn

Doctor Matthew Bogard Iowa Nebraska Emergency Medicine

Matthew Bogard, MD

Dr. Matthew Bogard practices emergency medicine primarily at the Lucas County Health Center in Chariton, Iowa. Presently, he is Board Certified in Family Medicine by the National Board of Physicians and Surgeons and the American Academy of Family Physicians.

Friday, November 30, 2018

About Me

Dr. Matthew Bogard: All you need to know about hypertension - causes, symptoms, and treatments

Matthew Bogard, MD

Dr. Matthew Bogard grew up near Omaha, Nebraska and attended Creighton University where he studied Health Administration and Biology. He attended medical school at the University of Nebraska – College of Medicine and was selected to join the Advanced Rural Training Program, a four-year residency program at the University of Nebraska Medical Center that trains physicians to provide comprehensive full-spectrum medical care. During residency, Dr. Bogard served on the Board of Directors of the

Matthew Bogard
Matthew Bogard, ER Physician in Iowa and Nebraska
Chariton, Iowa

All Staffing, Inc.
University of Nebraska at Omaha
See contact info

Blog of Dr Matt Bogard Iowa

Matthew Bogard MD Family Medicine

Dr Matthew Bogard NE and IA

This press release can be viewed online at: <http://www.einpresswire.com>

Disclaimer: If you have any questions regarding information in this press release please contact the company listed in the press release. Please do not contact EIN Presswire. We will be unable to assist you with your inquiry. EIN Presswire disclaims any content contained in these releases.

