NEW YORK, NEW YORK, AMERICA, December 14, 2018 / EINPresswire.com/ -- With the strong support of our fans, BitForex's first global conference has been successfully concluded on December 9, 2018. On the day of the event, nearly 100 investors and industry giants participated in the event.

During the conference, the representative of BitForex in South Korea, Hwang jae-young expressed his views on the current development and positioning of the blockchain industry: "there is no denying that the market is in a bear market, but we are full of confidence in digital currency assets. In the blockchain market, we can see various project teams with great potential in technology and risk management ability. We believe markets will be healthier and bull markets will follow as global regulation improves and speculators leave. We will also gradually develop and open new offices around the world." Subsequently, XTOck, Cloudbric and FLETA, south Korean project team, introduced their project to the on-site users one by one.

The lucky draw and the Q & A section pushed the atmosphere to the highest point and provided an opportunity for BitForex to communicated with users in "zero distance".

At the end of the conference, we interviewed several users and project teams, who considered that BitForex, as a one-stop international financial service platform, it provided a very safe and friendly platform to users.
