

Travel alert! Victim of pickpocketing: Never again with the Truly Innovations Everyday Carry Shirt

FRANKLIN, TN, USA, December 14, 2018 /EINPresswire.com/ -- When you're traveling for business or leisure, there are certain things you wouldn't leave home without – your wallet, smartphone, passport, airline or train tickets – maybe even a small reading light, a pair of reading glasses or a phone charger. Those who travel often are at increased risk of being victims of petty crimes like pickpocketing. Tourists and locals alike should be wary of threats to personal space and safety during their commute, whether locally or abroad.

The loss of personal effects and credentials might seem relatively minor, but it can cause serious disruption to your vacation or business trip. In some cases, such thefts can result in confidential information falling into the wrong hands.

David Bowers, a U.S. veteran and former U.S. Department of State security officer, is the founder of Truly Innovations, headquartered in Franklin, TN. Bowers and his team have developed a solution to keep you and your everyday carry items safe: The Truly Innovations Everyday Carry Shirt.

Truly Innovations has created an entire product line for those seeking a blend of concealment, comfort, accessibility and safety for those everyday carry items we don't leave home without.

The concept came from consulting with those in the everyday carry community who wanted an alternative clothing option specifically designed for their everyday items.”

The Everyday Carry Shirt is a more comfortable and concealed option for carrying items such as knives, multitools, flashlights, or even a small handgun. It's the most versatile everyday carry and anti-pickpocketing shirt on the market.

“The concept came from consulting with those in the everyday carry community who wanted an alternative clothing option specifically designed for their everyday items that would be comfortable and would keep their items accessible - yet wouldn't scream 'tactical',” said Bowers.

Bowers specializes in global security issues and is an advocate for personal security and situational awareness. He noted, "During our market analysis, we found that many people want clothing that blends into their business and casual wardrobe without having to dress around their everyday carry items, use backpacks or shoulder bags or overload their pant pockets. We found that very few clothing options exist today for everyday carry gear, and we're left having to adapt with traditional apparel. The product was constructed primarily with concealment and comfort in mind and offers tactical function without tactical style."

The Everyday Carry Shirt, offered in a variety of styles, appears to be a normal button-up shirt on the outside but is constructed with a sewn in, lightweight, patent-pending mesh vest, that includes dual left and right padded pockets that are positioned like shoulder holsters. The front shirt panel includes traditional buttons with two faux buttons for quick and easy access to the pockets.

The pockets are accessible through Velcro flaps for quick access and are connected at the center of the chest with an adjustable connector. In addition to concealment, comfort was paramount in the design. The "game changer" for this product is the pair of adjustable positioning straps, which allow the user to customize and position the vest pockets in the underarm-torso cavity area that best fits the user's body type. The product is not a one-size-fits-all and was designed for ultimate comfort while sitting or standing.

The Everyday Carry Shirt is available for order on the web at www.trulyinnovations.com. Truly Innovations maintains an active social media presence on Facebook, Instagram, Twitter and even YouTube.
