

Cannabis King BigMike, Founder of Advanced Nutrients, to Marry Bulgarian Supermodel

King of cannabis BigMike Straumietis is engaged to be married to supermodel-turned-entrepreneur Ceci Krasimirova.

LOS ANGELES, CA, UNITED STATES, December 15, 2018 /EINPresswire.com/ -- At sunset, November 18, on the Caribbean island of Anguilla, BigMike Straumietis presented Ceci Krasimirova with a flawless diamond ring. Among the rarest and purest on earth, fewer than two percent of all diamonds fall into the flawless category, and such gemstones were typically reserved throughout history for kings and queens alone. Krasimirova's ring is comprised of three main stones, totalling 6 carats — three stones being a representation of the trinity, which holds power and significance in many cultures and mythologies — as well as other special, secret symbols for the two lovebirds alone.

BigMike and Krasimirova's relationship began over a decade ago in Bulgaria. Upon being introduced at a mountainside restaurant, BigMike was floored by Krasimirova's unique beauty and stunning blue eyes. The pair hit it off and began a long, private, romantic courtship. Because Krasimirova did not speak much English and BigMike had yet to begin learning Bulgarian, at first the couple communicated through a translator.

Krasimirova sparked more than just romantic interest in BigMike; she also served as the catalyst for his complete physical and mental transformation. Previously unhealthy in his diet and lifestyle, BigMike now eats clean and adheres to a daily physical regimen, thanks to the encouragement and support of Krasimirova.

Krasimirova began modeling at age 12 in her home country of Bulgaria, reaching the heights of supermodel success during the '90s. She's won several awards throughout her career, including the titles of Miss Shopkinia, Top Model of Bulgaria and Top Model of Europe. However, her professional pursuits span more than just fashion and beauty — Krasimirova is also a choreographer who leads a Bulgarian dance team, an entrepreneur in the health and fitness space, and an ardent cannabis grower and advocate.

BigMike has been a cannabis grower and entrepreneur since 1983. He is the founder and CEO of Advanced Nutrients, the world's No. 1 cannabis-specific cultivation company. BigMike's latest ventures include Lacturnus Labs — a $20-million cannabis research center located in Los Angeles — and BigMike's Blends, his namesake line of ultra-premium, outcome-based pre-rolls. His Instagram @BigMike currently has more than 2.5 million followers.

Over the past decade, BigMike and Krasimirova's courtship has transformed into true and lasting love. The power couple stands poised to propel their many business ventures to new heights, and look forward to potential collaborative endeavors in the future as well.
