Globiness.ca is helping grocers of all colors and pet food store owners. As Grocery is lean competition market segment of retail, it's quite hard for grocers to manage online ordering system with day to day complex grocery operation. Whereas Globiness is enabling the opportunity to unite and grow in the segment. Unlike, other online grocery delivery services, who either compete or put an additional financial burden on grocer and ultimately customers suffer with the extra financial burden like, hidden delivery charges, higher item price, price different from in-store price, no in-store weekly deals to offer, busy delivery pricing and so on. Globiness is the way to go for grocer by creating a Win-Win situation for both of them.

Mayankkumar Patel, Co-founder of Globiness commented on their expansion. He stated that they are excited to making a difference in Mississauga community. We are bringing heritage back to your doorstep. If you ask your grandparent, they have a better story about their involvement at back in time. It's started with milk home delivery (milk man) and later they added bread, eggs and more. They hope to provide the Mississauga's grocers partnership with growth opportunities. With positive hope, the customers too enjoy ordering and eating at the tap of a button. The association with Globiness, they aim to get the goodwill and trust earned in the grocery space and combine it with the new age reality of virtual grocer for every families need which will be delivered to the consumers at home and work in an appropriate way.

Online Grocery Delivery means those which are digital-only shoppers that will allow the business owners to explore new e-grocery options and will help to reach a wider audience by using the amount of space in their existing store or supermarket. This grocer will allow the partners to examine the new opportunities in today's vibrant market in a dexterous manner.
