

"Santa Stream": For the First Time Ever, Live Streaming Offered from Santa's Village in the North Pole

With Christmas quickly approaching, a new smartphone app lets children view 24/7 live streams from Santa's Village in the North Pole for free!

DURHAM, NORTH CAROLINA, UNITED STATES, December 18, 2018 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Dynamic Apps has released a new app for both Apple iOS and Android smartphones that brings "live" video from Santa's Village to children everywhere this year. Kids - known as "Santa Streamers" - can watch Santa, Mrs. Claus and the elves 24/7 from the North Pole.

The app, called "Santa Stream," allows viewers to stream video from four locations up north: Santa's Workshop, the Claus' home, Village Square, and the North Pole News Studio.

Every day starts with a "North Pole News: Morning Update" featuring a news team led by an anchor (a popular former television news anchor), on-location reporter, and weatherperson.

As the fun happens during the day with Santa, Mrs. Claus, and the elves, Santa Streamers receive alerts to watch the action on the live streams. If it's missed, viewers may always view it on demand.

Additionally, on Christmas Eve and for the first time ever, cameras will be installed on Santa's sleigh and will only be viewable on the Santa Stream app. The North Pole News team will anchor a full day of coverage complete with correspondents around the world, reports from Mission Control in the North Pole, and, of course, live streaming from Santa's Sleigh.

The app is free to view all of the live streams from Santa's Village.

Now parents everywhere can share the magic of the North Pole this Christmas season with their children through the Santa Stream app.

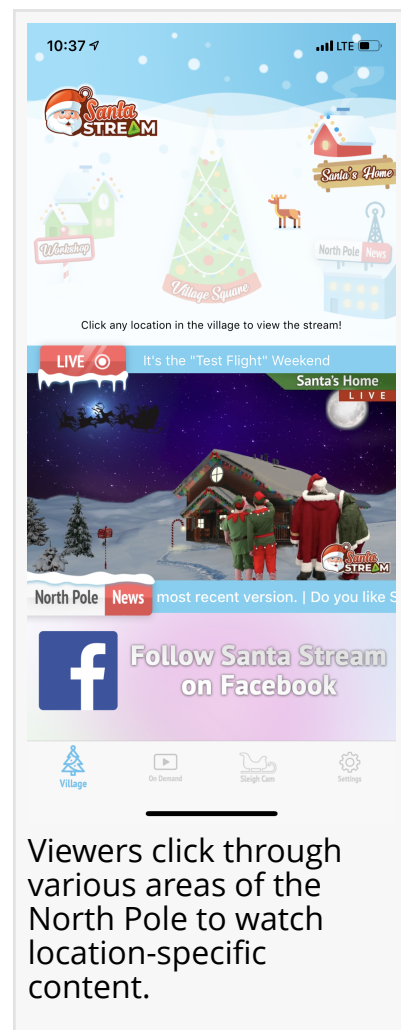

Santa Stream offers an active Facebook page for Santa Streamers and those interested: <http://www.Facebook.com/SantaStreamLive>.
