

The Italian Company Vublou has Launched their First Collection of Watches Inspired by Venice

Vublou has launched its new watches collection inspired by Venetian gondolas and now offer them on Kickstarter with a 40% off the future retail price.

VENICE, ITALY, December 18, 2018 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Vublou is the energy of two young friends that have an intense passion for high quality watches and the city of Venice.

By combining italian design and the true spirit of Venice the first edition of watches pairs the best of both worlds.

The iconic colors of the gondolas in the middle of the canals have inspired and were captured in the design of the first collection of watches.

Vublou Black and Gold

Every single component is hand picket and of high quality. The watch has its case in full black, with a special blue or black dial, gold color hands and hour indicator. You can choose between a leather strap or a mesh bracelet, both in full black to perfectly match the colors of the timepiece. Last but not least the back part is characterized by a steel base with a special draw that represent the city of Venice.

The newly born Italian company has already designed and prototyped the first collection, now it is ready to produce and distribute its first unique high quality and minimal design watches. This first edition serves as a basis for the long-term vision of the company, that is to create something new, never seen before, for people who like special things.

On 16th December they launched a Kickstarter campaign with the intent to raise the necessary funds to start the production and distribution of the first edition of watches that captures the true harmony of Venice. Let's give life to this project.
