EINPresswire.com/ -- Threading, waxing, lash perming and henna salon "Beauty n Brow" has recently announced that they are launching a new henna for kids service. The kid-friendly henna is now available at the local store in Washington DC and is welcoming children and their parents. The studio is equipped with various designs, colors and the children would be able to either pick one of the designs from the catalogue or come up with their own ideas and request a personalized henna tattoo.

The new service is launching due to popular demand and the rising numbers of children who have been asking their parents of the recently-boomed trend of henna tattooing. Depending on the design and the size of it, the prices will vary. Appointments can be booked through phone number or right at the salon.
