The Tampa Bay real estate industry continues to attract attention from across the country and Move With Me provides much wanted insight from community leaders."

James Ramos, CEO of Ramos Companies announced today that its Real Estate Podcast, Move With Me, has reached the 100th episode milestone. Move With Me is a weekly podcast that features real estate professionals, community leaders, and individuals that are working to transform the Tampa Bay real estate industry. The podcast is hosted by James Ramos who is CEO of the Ramos Companies. In addition to being distributed online, the podcast is also broadcast each week across Central Florida on WWBA AM 820 radio. The 100th episode will be released on ramoscompanies.com, iTunes, Google Play, and Soundcloud on Friday, December 28th.

The 100th episode of Move With Me will feature Peter

Mulry, CEO of the Peter J. Mulry Foundation. Peter is the former head baseball coach of Tampa Catholic High School and the University of Tampa. During his career he took his teams to 6 final four tournaments, 4 State Championships, and won a National Championship. He accumulated a high school record of 329-39 and was named Coach of the Year in 1968, 1971, 1973, 1976. After retiring from coaching baseball, Coach Mulry organized the Peter J. Mulry Foundation, Inc. to provide life skills training to deserving young people in the Tampa Bay area

This specific episode will be very special for host James Ramos. Not only will it be James' 100th episode of Move With Me, but it will also provide him the opportunity to interview a former high school baseball coach. James had a successful high school baseball career and went on to play catcher for the University of Florida. He credits baseball and the life lessons he learned from playing competitive sports as being the foundation of his work ethic.

"I am very excited to be hosting the 100th episode of Move With Me," said James Ramos, CEO of Ramos Companies, "The Tampa Bay real estate industry continues to attract attention from across the country and Move With Me provides much wanted insight from community leaders."
