"Expanding our selection on Amazon Prime makes it more convenient for Prime members to purchase our seat covers since they can combine the order with other items they need," said Matt Larsen, the e-Commerce manager at Seat Covers Unlimited. "The fast and free shipping for Amazon Prime customers helps our customers save even more money on our already affordable truck bench seat covers."

Seat Covers Unlimited is the world's largest online retailer of custom and universal truck seat covers. Shoppers can customize seat covers with their vast selection of fabrics, colors, patterns, and more. With unlimited seat cover options for most vehicle makes and models dating back to the 1930s available, buyers can create truly unique seat covers to meet their needs. Choose between waterproof fabrics, neoprene, faux fur and leather, canvas, patterns such as animal print, florals, and camo, and a broad range of colors.

SCU's universal truck seat covers are designed to fit bucket and bench seats in most makes and models of trucks, including familiar brands like: Ford, Chevy, Nissan, and Dodge. Buyers can search by truck make and model to find the seat covers they need.

Seat Covers Unlimited truck seat covers are not limited to Amazon Prime members. Non-Prime amazon shoppers can purchase the popular truck bed seat covers on Amazon or on their website but will not enjoy Prime's free, two-day shipping; However, affordable shipping prices are still available.

With SCU on Amazon Prime, the product returns process is quick and easy. Because customers don't have a chance to preview their seat covers in person before purchase, it is not rare for buyers to exchange seat covers after ordering the wrong item, size, or a color that didn't meet their expectations.

"We are dedicated to providing the best quality products and the highest level of customer service," Larsen said. "We are glad to make returns, for any reason, quickly and efficiently. Our customers are often ecstatic by the look and quality of their truck seat covers."

Hundreds of positive reviews on Amazon and other areas around the web testify to the product quality of the seat covers offered by Seat Covers Unlimited. Many customer testimonials also compliment the service quality received by the company.

Amazon carries more than 20,000 products from Seat Covers Unlimited, but Amazon Prime members have a more limited selection. The company plans to extend its offerings available for Prime members in the near future.
