Centers announced today that Medical Director and CEO, Christopher Pittman, M.D., DABR, FACPh has been elected a Fellow of the American College of Radiology (ACR) -- one of the highest honors the ACR can bestow on a member. Fellowship symbolizes exceptional achievement in the fields of diagnostic radiology, interventional radiology, nuclear medicine, radiation oncology, and/or medical physics. ACR Fellows have distinguished themselves through one or more domains: service to the ACR and/or organized radiology/medicine; outstanding teaching of radiology; and/or significant scientific or clinical research in radiology and/or significant contributions to the literature.

Only 10 percent of College members have been awarded this honor. Following a convocation ceremony to be held May 19, 2019 at the ACR Annual Meeting, newly elected Fellows may place FACR after their name to acknowledge the accomplishment.

Christopher Pittman, M.D., DABR, FACPh is a nationally recognized expert and thought leader on health care policy and politics, medical economics, and health information technology. He is Medical Director and CEO of Vein911® Vein Treatment Centers and Managing Director of Health Performance Specialists. Dr. Pittman serves on the Board of Directors of the American College of Phlebology (ACPh) and is the ACPh Delegate to the American Medical Association. He previously served on the Executive Committee of the ACPh Foundation, the Board of Governors of the Florida Medical Association, and is Past President of the Florida Medical Association Political Action Committee (FMA PAC) and Past President of the Hillsborough County Medical Association.

Dr. Pittman was recently elected a Fellow of the American College of Phlebology. Fellows of the American College of Phlebology (FACPh) are recognized for their substantial commitment and contribution to the specialty of venous disease treatment and care; shown through volunteerism, authored publications, education, years of practice, leadership and other qualifications that lead to the advancement of vein care.

“I am humbled, honored and excited to be nominated and elected a Fellow of the American College of Radiology,” said Dr. Chris Pittman, Medical Director and CEO of Vein911® Vein Treatment Centers.
