

Intermountain Foundation Holiday Events Raise More Than $3.9 Million

Foundation sustains Intermountain Healthcare's not-for-profit mission

SALT LAKE CITY, UTAH, USA, December 28, 2018 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Thousands of donors responded with generosity at Intermountain Foundation holiday fundraisers, raising more than $3.9 million for causes statewide ranging from mental health and suicide prevention, to cardiovascular services, cancer services, and medical care for children. Some highlights:

- More than 100,000 holiday revelers flocked to the 48th annual Festival of Trees, which raised nearly $2.8 million for pediatric patients in need at Intermountain Primary Children's Hospital.
- Nearly $1 million was raised at this year's Jubilee of Trees in St. George, Utah, where more than 14,000 donors pitched in to advance cardiovascular services at Intermountain Dixie Regional Medical Center.
- Hosted by the Intermountain Foundation at Intermountain Bear River Hospital in Tremonton, Utah, the 9th annual Jubilee of Trees raised $108,000 for local mental health and suicide prevention programs.
- More than 1,000 attendees enjoyed the Jaynie Nye Memorial Holiday Concert featuring Lexi Walker, Vocal Point, and the American Heritage Lyceum Philharmonic, raising funds for Cancer Services at Intermountain McKay-Dee Hospital in Ogden, Utah.
