

WE NEED TO ELECT THE PRESIDENT WHO WILL GO ALL OUT IN TRANSFORMING AMERICA INTO A WISE SOCIETY.

We need a leader who will work on the premise that the key to a thriving, healthy, happy, prosperous and peaceful America is an emotionally healthy America.

WASHINGTON, DC, USA, January 3, 2019 /EINPresswire.com/ -- There is no doubt that there are several genuine leaders who deserves to win the White House on the grounds that they are dedicated leaders who want to do everything possible to help all the America people to prosper in every way. The problem is that the tools at their disposal to improve lives are based on defective expertise that is provided by our so-called experts. Since ancient times it is well known that wisdom is the key to all great societies. Unfortunately there is so much confusion about wisdom that mainstream experts dare not even suggest that the main task of our future president should be making the American society as wise as humanly possible. Yet wisdom is the key to getting rid of the ills of America.

We need to elect a president who runs on the slogan, 'Making America wise is our fundamental goal'. Focus has to shift from teaching wisdom to healing the self-image into wisdom via emotional health.”

Sajid Khan.

Every single problem like drug addictions, divorce, tiredness, education mess, crime, sleeplessness, unhappiness, corruption, discrimination, prejudice, hatred, violence etc. are all due to lack of wisdom. Our leaders and their expert teams must recognize that this lack of wisdom is the fundamental problem facing America. Only by providing wisdom can the White House leadership tackle these problems and replace them with a mostly drug free, good binding relationships, relaxation, rest, excellent education, crime free, sound sleep, happy, honest, loving and peaceful America. So the question is how do our leaders make America wise?

For the last few decades our experts have realized that to get rid of the above ills what we need is emotional intelligence. However our experts have again misdefined emotional intelligence. Emotional intelligence is wisdom and like wisdom emotional intelligence is not an independent entity. One can even say that emotional intelligence is an attribute of wisdom. Emotional intelligence is a fragrance that springs from wisdom. It is because our experts wrongly consider emotional intelligence as an independent entity, they try to teach it directly. Naturally there is as much success in teaching emotional intelligence as in teaching wisdom and so our society is as messed up as ever. Emotional intelligence springs from emotional health(EH). In fact America is the #1 emotionally challenged country in the world. What would you expect when Emotional Health(EH) is 50% of health and yet there is no testing and no manual for emotional health. What is worse is that EI and EH are messed up in ignorance. Our experts like Orpah and Daniel Goleman are pushing for EI when EI is the smoke and EH is the fire. We need leaders that will take corrective action. The leader we need is going to stop addressing the symptoms and start addressing the disease.

Another mistake that our experts make is they try to teach emotional intelligence to the mind. The mind itself is a fragrance of the brain and it is very difficult to improve a fragrance by educating the fragrance! However as the mind is a self-conscious fragrance educating the mind does result in, 'mind-washing' and so some improvement does take place through very gradually. What our experts need to recognize is that the mind is a fragrance of the brain and that to make the mind wise it is the emotional brain that needs to be healed into a generator of wisdom.

We need a leader who will introduce EH testing of all, the young and the old and Wise parenting classes for the newly weds and future parents. As well as brain therapy for those older who need their emotional health fixed.

I have published hundreds of articles, papers and blogs explaining this ignorance of our experts and its solution, please google, 'sajid wisdom' to review my path to a wise America. Here are some of the relevant articles: (If the link is broken then please copy and paste the title)
