

Novel Coworking purchases historic Angebilt Building

ORLANDO, FL, UNITED STATES, January 7, 2019 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Coworking company Novel Coworking is expanding into Downtown Orlando with the purchase of the historic Angebilt Building at 37 N. Orange Avenue. The Chicago-based company acquired the 100,323-square-foot building on January 3 and plans to renovate it to provide modern and affordable workspace. Pre-leasing is already underway for private offices, office suites, and coworking memberships.

"Orlando's professional services job growth is impressive, and we are excited to offer local business owners and enterprise companies flexible, budget-friendly workspace in a fantastic location," said Bill Bennett, Founder of Novel Coworking.

Novel Coworking's members get 24/7 access to the building and vibrant coworking lounge, direct fiber internet, all utilities, an espresso bar, local beer on tap, modern furnishings, and community events included in rent. With coworking memberships starting at $129 a month, private offices starting at $499 a month, and office suites as low as $199 per employee a month, Novel Coworking provides small businesses, enterprise firms, and entrepreneurs with high-caliber amenities at a budget price.

Opened in 1923 as the luxurious Angebilt Hotel, the 11-floor building was once the tallest in Orlando and has been a local landmark ever since. By offering state-of-the-art offices within historic structures, Novel Coworking honors the architecturally significant while outfitting buildings with cutting-edge technology and inspiring amenities for members.

"The Angebilt Building has a storied history within the Orlando community, and we look forward to it once again being a hub for the city's business and social activity," said Bennett. "The city's strong growth in recent years makes it the perfect place for Novel Coworking to serve the diverse mix of entrepreneurs and business owners."
