PR Daily's Nonprofit PR Awards celebrates the teams, organizations and consultants who have redefined the field with their groundbreaking work. As an honorable mention recipient in the program, the NCJFCJ joins an elite group of past recipients, including the Pew Center for Arts & Heritage, Oceana and the United States Geospatial Intelligence Foundation.

The NCJFCJ was chosen from a wide pool of entries to receive an honorable mention in the Annual Report category for the impact of its work.

The NCJFCJ Annual Report focused on its progress and accomplishments in juvenile justice, child welfare, family violence and domestic relations. The NCJFCJ featured how it moved the needle in the last year with its audience through data and results. It demonstrated statewide, national and international impact to show how NCJFCJ is meeting the needs of its member base.

“Out of many outstanding submissions, we found the NCJFCJ’s work to truly set a new standard of excellence for all practitioners,” said Justine Figueroa, senior marketing coordinator for awards programs at Ragan Communications. “We congratulate them and look forward to seeing their future successes in this field.”
