"The most meaningful part of my career is giving back," explained Micah Raskin. "Over the holiday season, I was able to partner with various charities in Hempstead Long Island, working with both the homeless, and clothing children in need, and it's always a rewarding experience."

Giving back to those less fortunate and having a successful career, do not have to be two different things. Micah Raskin helps clients everywhere connect those two worlds together to have a more successful business and personal life. His new book is about just that; how to find happiness and success and how to feel great internally throughout your life.

That's why as a serial entrepreneur, Micah Raskin understands the importance of finding passion in both your professional and personal life, which is why he always encourages his clients to give back, not just during the holidays, but all year long. Building a routine like this helps increase your discipline level and lead to a more fulfilling life in all areas.

Micah Raskin incorporates humanitarian work into his weekly and monthly schedule, and it always leaves him filled with joy and much more centered on his work and his private life. He encourages his clients to make a schedule that allows them to give back to a charity of their choice at least once a month, and he guarantees that it will lead to a more fulfilling business and private life, keeping you centered and focused on what truly matters.

As Micah Raskin continues to travel and speak on these topics, he always reminds his audience and clients, that another incredible benefit of giving back is your health. 75% of people who donate their time on a regular basis report an increase in happiness, feeling less depressed, and report an overall increase in physical well-being.

It is no secret that giving back can be one of the most rewarding experiences of your life, and Micah Raskin is here to encourage you along the way.
