

TraceGains Helps Transform Arizona Nutritional Supplements® Supplier Management

DENVER, CO, UNITED STATES, January 24, 2019 /EINPresswire.com/ -- TraceGains, the leader in supplier compliance and quality management software for food, beverage, and supplement companies, today announced that Arizona Nutritional Supplements (ANS) has implemented TraceGains Supplier Management.

ANS is a full-service contract manufacturer of dietary supplement and food products serving some of the industry's largest and most respected brands. ANS selected TraceGains to provide visibility of supplier qualification and material approvals. The company's previous documentation systems were expensive, cumbersome, and unable to scale to meet increasing demands of a growing business.

Our suppliers can easily see what we have, and immediately provide needed updates or documents. Now, our suppliers' data and documentation will be centralized, connected, and normalized.”

ANS Vice President of Quality Systems Tom Dubinski

TraceGains Supplier Management is based on the SIDI™ Protocol and provides ANS with scalable software to promote compliance and integrity. Suppliers can see exactly what is required for FSMA compliance, and ANS has real-time visibility of supplier status.

“In August 2018, we acquired Healthnotes, a leading quality and compliance software company for the supplement industry,” TraceGains CEO Gary Nowacki said. “We are excited to recognize ANS as our first legacy Healthnotes customer to go live with TraceGains Supplier Management.”

“There is a sense of accomplishment. We don't have to keep requesting the same information from suppliers year after year,” ANS Vice President of Quality Systems Tom Dubinski explained. “Our suppliers can easily see what we have, and immediately provide needed updates or documents. Now, our suppliers' data and documentation will be centralized, connected, and normalized.”
