ARLINGTON, VA, USA, January 28, 2019 /EINPresswire.com/ -- The University of Management and Technology (UMT) announced today that it has created the UMT First Responder Scholarship program. This needs-based scholarship is offered to eligible federal, state, and local police officers, paramedics, emergency medical services personnel, and firefighters.

The First Responder Scholarship reduces the tuition cost per credit-hour from $390 to $250 and waives most fees. Significantly, recipients of the scholarship qualify for participation in the UMT Book Loan program, saving them thousands of dollars of textbook expenses. Beyond this, it provides students with flexible start dates and self-paced study. This enables students to customize their study load to accommodate their family needs and work requirements.
