

Women's Rights Forum Brings Issues to Clearwater

CLEARWATER, FLORIDA, US, January 31, 2019 /EINPresswire.com/ -- On Saturday February 9th, United for Human Rights (UHR) Florida Chapter will host a forum on Women's rights at their center, located at 29 N. Fort Harrison Ave, in downtown Clearwater. The event begins at 2:00 and there is no cost to attend. Refreshments will be served.

"The purpose of these forums is to talk about those issues we don't normally talk about elsewhere, to get the discussion going so we can come up with the solutions to pay forward," said Sanna Heden, the Deputy Executive Director for UHR's chapter in Florida.

United for Human Rights of Florida regularly hosts seminars to raise awareness of basic human rights.

One issue that is discussed is the idea of employment equality – women receiving the same opportunities and pay as their similarly-qualified male counterparts.

The Equal Rights Amendment to the Constitution was first introduced in 1923, [b]ut nearly one hundred years later, it has only been ratified by 37 states.”

"This amendment would guarantee equal rights regardless of sex and many people think it is a done deal, but it is not, which is why this conversation needs to continue" said Heden.

The Women's Rights Forum is every second Saturday of the month and has successfully brought together women of diverse backgrounds to discuss solutions to a lack of women's rights.
