SAN FRANCISCO, CA, USA, February 1, 2019 /EINPresswire.com/ -- It's no secret college, university, trade or design school can all be quite expensive and challenging for some students to attend. The good news is opportunities do exist for students to display their skill and passion and win scholarships to help them have the chance to achieve their potential. In exciting news in this area, 2018 saw the first annual Kelleher International Scholarship launch to "pay it forward" and help two students with their ongoing education needs. The winner of the inaugural contest which asked students who participated to answer the question "How Can Philanthropy Change the World" was the very happy and enthusiastic Gina Upholzer and Lily Sweet King, who both delivered remarkable answers. The entire event was surrounded by extremely passionate energy.

"Ongoing education is incredibly important and we are glad to be able to help," commented a spokesperson from the fund. "We wish all the best to Gina and Lilly and have full confidence that they will continue as remarkable students and people, we can all be proud of."
