Specialists announced today that it has been selected as a Top 10 Medical Practice Solutions Provider by Healthcare Tech Outlook magazine. The award is presented on an annual basis and recognizes 10 companies that are at the forefront of transforming healthcare and providing medical practice management solutions.

As part of the Award, Healthcare Tech Outlook published a detailed article on Health Performance Specialists which can be accessed by clicking here.

Health Performance Specialists was selected for its unique business model that helps independent physicians use advanced analytics to deliver positive patient outcomes and optimize practice profitability. Another core service of the company, that helps practices save significant dollars, is a group purchasing vehicle with affiliate partnerships across multiple medical supply companies.

Healthcare Tech Outlook magazine is a monthly publication that offers healthcare decision makers critical information on adopting, innovating, and building new programs to enhance their capability to provide care. The magazine is a leading source of information on the transformation of the healthcare industry and its transition to becoming patient-centric and promoting consumer choice, quality, and affordability.

"We are excited to be recognized for our thought leadership and innovation," said Chris Pittman, M.D., DABR, FAVLS, Managing Partner of Health Performance Specialists. "Health Performance Specialists continues to grow and will soon be the world's largest network of independent physicians focused specifically on the treatment of varicose and spider veins."
