“We are partners in every sense of the word,” says David Cook, Vice President of Professional Services. “We visit businesses onsite, meet their teams, get a feel for their processes, and then collaborate with them to build a piece of software designed to help them achieve their own unique goals.”

We are partners in every sense of the word.”

David Cook, VP Professional Services

Custom software and business automation development from KDG begins with a Project Discovery Process. During this planning process, KDG's advisors and developers work with businesses to blueprint the project, its requirements, and its use cases.

“This saves considerable time and money in the future,” says Cook. “It cuts back on rework and ensures all parties know what the application's intention is before any code is written.”

All development is done in KDG's Allentown, PA headquarters. No development is outsourced. The company is a certified Zoho Partner (one of only a few located entirely in the US), as well as Google Partner. The company has 99% customer satisfaction over 1,100+ reviews.
