

Konstant Eyes Another Triumph as Top AngularJS Dev Company

Does the gritty AngularJS framework has the courage to stand up and spice up Web development? ITFirms has been velocious in finding it through!

PALO ALTO, CALIFORNIA, UNITED STATES, February 8, 2019 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Resuming at a precarious list of 10/10 features like end to end testing, two way data binding, dependency injection, model view controller, highly regulated code with all MVC standards, extensible single page application development, and topping up the cake with Data Binding, Routing, Deep linking, Controller, Dependency Injections, Cross-platform app development and unit testing, AngularJS shows remarkable gumption and grit to create robust, clean and dynamic applications with ease.

ITFirms was excited to test the bench strength of the unheralded players in Angularjs Development globally and quickly brewed up a comprehensive list - <https://www.itfirms.co/top-angularjs-development-companies/>

Mr. Vipin Jain, CEO - Konstant Infosolutions states, "Keeping winning strategies in mind and combining them with compelling stories and constructive engagement with shareholders, I started this journey 15 years back in 2003 with co-founder and Managing Director of Konstant, Mr. Manish Jain. Both of us firmly believe in applying simplified ways to manage our teams and projects. We proudly introduce our responsive and skilled AngularJS developers who promise to build constructive solutions for your business.

About ITFirms

ITFirms works on the principle of matching up B2B companies as it is extremely difficult to approach a company of dreams with increasing competition. It is commissioned to collect wide spectrum data from service seekers on daily basis, put it to extensive research from various resources and then lists them on its website as final listing so that service seekers can come and check out. This actually helps them fulfill their requirement, boosts their market share, acquisition statistics and brand awareness.
