DENVER, COLORADO, UNITED STATES, February 12, 2019 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Groundbreaking therapies are being developed at the Denver Regenerative Medicine Center under the direction of Dr. Joel Cherdack and his team in the treatment and reduction of hormone imbalances found in men and women. Using a unique combination of medical innovations now being presented across the globe, Dr. Cherdack and his team are making available a natural Hormone Replacement Therapy (HRT) to control the effects and causes of imbalances in the hormonal system.

Year after year, our bodies produce less and less hormones. This doesn't need to happen! Hormone replacement therapy can keep you feeling young and youthful.”

Dr. Joel Cherdack

Derived as a conclusion to scientific papers presented by peers, this innovative HRT process demonstrates significant promise in stemming and even reversing the effects of decreased sexual drive, erectile dysfunction and depression in men, while treating thinning hair, heavy menstrual cycles and vaginal dryness in women.

Whether due in part to reduced or elevated levels of estrogen, in combination with feminine menopause symptoms, Dr. Cherdack, and team's approach is an all-natural HRT designed to target specific areas of hormonal reduction by re-balancing the body's natural cycle of hormone production.

Research and trials completed at the Denver Regenerative Medicine Center have proven marked increases in normal hormonal levels in those that qualify for the treatment. According to studies released recently, though women are more likely to experience short-term and temporary imbalances in the hormone levels, men are also commonly identified with similar issues related to aging.

With natural HRT treatments being developed through the Denver Regenerative Medicine Center, patients can experience a significant improvement in normal hormone balances, a return to natural estrogen levels and a reduction in symptoms related to menopause.

"We are extremely excited to add these new hormone therapies to the Regenerative medicine services that we provide. As a leader in the field of anti-aging and regenerative medicine, we know that hormones play a vital function in maintaining the integrity of our bodies and slowing the aging process. Year after year, our bodies produce less and less hormones. As this progresses, we feel less energy, less strength, and less enjoyment in life. This doesn't need to happen! Hormone replacement therapy can keep you feeling young." - Dr. Joel Cherdack
