/EINPresswire.com/ -- The award-winning technology management experts at KDG are offering data security services that are helping protect Allentown, Bethlehem, and Easton businesses from data breaches, cyber attacks, phishing scams, and more.

"Data threats aren't just 'out there,'" says Patrick Whalen, head technical analyst at KDG. "They're also posed by unknowing employees in your very office. Our team helps you protect your business, your data, and your customers against both threats."

Among the services KDG provides to Lehigh Valley businesses are network maintenance and troubleshooting, help desk support, system security, and onsite support. The company also offers a one-of-a-kind service called HR Tech Support, which helps train businesses to recognize and address insider data threats. The team can also be onsite to conduct audits, answer questions, and perform repairs.

In addition, the small business IT support team is a certified Google Cloud Partner, a Microsoft Partner, and a member of the Google Reseller-Partner Program.
