

Hear exclusive insights from leading microbiologists at SMI's Pharmaceutical Microbiology East Coast Event

In less than 2 months time, the Pharmaceutical Microbiology East Coast conference will be returning to Boston, on April 10th and 11th 2019.

BOSTON, MA, UNITED STATES ,
February 14, 2019 /EINPresswire.com/
-- Pharmaceutical Microbiology is constantly evolving within all areas of pharmaceutical manufacturing and it is important to keep current. With changes to regulations particularly EU GMP Annex 1 with PICS and WHO oversight with requirements to follow quality risk management QRM principles and create specific contamination control strategies the challenges increase to all involved in sterile product manufacturing and associated aseptic processing applied to biological product processing.

The poster features a central image of a petri dish with a red agar surface, showing various microbial colonies and streaks. The background is a light blue gradient. Text is overlaid on the image in white and red. At the top, it says 'SMi Presents the 2nd Annual Conference...'. Below that, the main title 'Pharmaceutical Microbiology East Coast' is in large white font. A red banner below the title contains the text 'Discussing best practices and techniques to tackle microbial control challenges'. In the bottom right corner, a white box with a red border contains the location 'Battery Wharf Hotel, Boston, USA' and the dates '10 - 11 APRIL 2019'. At the bottom of the poster, the website 'www.microbiologyeastcoast.com' and the hashtag '#SMiPharmaMicroEC' are displayed.

In addition, the increasing knowledge of the human microbiome and potential therapies, the advances in Rapid Micro Methods and increased application new areas of pharmaceutical microbiology are developing to align with regulatory requirements and expectations. With this in mind, it is essential for all those involved in the industry to attend Pharmaceutical Microbiology East Coast 2019. There is a $100 Early Bird saving on bookings expiring on the Thursday February 28, 2019. Places can be reserved at <http://www.microbiologyeastcoast.com/pr3>

The two-day conference will include presentations from industry experts in the following emerging disciplines:

- Science and regulation: preparing suitable contamination control strategies and ensuring

CGMP compliance. Including a keynote session on considered impact from revision on Annex 1 on a new Aseptic processing Filling line to provide an insight to attendees of preparation for this upcoming major revision in GMP requirements for future projects

- Rapid microbial methods, both implementation and an industry perspective on process automation
- Quality control considerations in microbial therapies and mycoplasma testing

In addition, delegates can attend the post-conference workshops on Mold Contamination Challenges hosted Microrite and/or Microbiological Control of GMPO using Vapour Phase Hydrogen Peroxide bio-decontamination hosted by PHSS/Franz Ziel GmbH.

This year's Pharmaceutical Microbiology East Coast will keep delegates up-to-date with the latest advances and the opportunity to network with industry professionals.
