

Teenagers at Risk on Social Media, Seminar Explains Why

CLEARWATER, FLORIDA, US, February 14, 2019 /EINPresswire.com/ -- On February 16, Veterans for Child Rescue is holding a seminar on how to talk to kids about online predators in the United for Human Rights (UHR) Center in Downtown Clearwater. United for Human Rights is a non-governmental, non-profit organization sponsored by the Church of Scientology internationally.

With social media being a prominent communication platform for teenagers, predators have been using it to lure unsuspecting victims into human trafficking. Between Twitter, Tinder, Facebook, Instagram, Snapchat and more, Veterans for Child Rescue has seen increasing numbers of teenagers falling victim.

United for Human Rights of Florida regularly hosts seminars and events to raise awareness of basic human rights. The Forum on Women's Rights will take place on Saturday August 11th at this downtown Clearwater center

“Human trafficking is a very real problem in today’s society,” said Mr. Cristian Vargas, Executive Director for United for Human Rights Florida. “Anyone using the internet needs to know the signs of a predator – it could happen to anyone.”
