

WOLFF Industries Scissors to be Featured on "America's Business to Consumers"

Launched in 2007, America's Business to Consumers provides U.S. manufacturers the venue for making their products known. WOLFF Industries Products Featured.

RENO, NEVADA, UNITED STATES, February 26, 2019

/EINPresswire.com/ -- America's Business to Consumers

Inc., www.USAB2C.com provides U.S. manufacturers the venue to sell products. Given a choice between items made in America and similar items made overseas, consumers would rather buy the American product, according to a nationally representative survey by the Consumer Reports National Research Center.

If every American purchase one USA made product per year the impact would be $9 billion. That creates an amazing amount of jobs for USA workers!”

Demetra Danas

Made in USA products carried run the gamut from toys, to tools, homegoods, towels, work & dress gloves, kitchen gear, work & trouble lights, decorative windmills, sunglasses, children's shoes, scissors, office clocks, nail clippers and more.

This month, WOLFF Industries are featured.

Specializing in stainless steel shears with edges sharper than can be obtained elsewhere, Mr. Lee Wolff started this sewing machine sales & service business in 1957. Mr. Lee did a great deal of scissors sharpening and repair, making important modifications on available scissors sharpening equipment. Consumer Reports rates the American scissors designed and produced by Mr. Lee Wolff as a “best buy.”

These stainless steel shears are great for the kitchen drawer and are handy for cutting soft metal, and vinyl items. Each pair has a professionally honed edge and is manufactured in the USA. USAB2C CEO John Anayannis shares: “I purchased five of these shears last holiday and received inquisitive looks from my mother and sisters. I was pleasantly surprised over subsequent months to receive many thanks and praise for these powerful 7 ½” shears particularly when cutting those impossible to open, clear plastic, rigid packages containing batteries, tools, etc.”

At $22.95, these are high-quality stainless steel utility shears with a high leverage cut.

Why USAB2C?

Chief Operations Officer George P. Hanos relayed, "USAB2C is a modern day marketplace in the tradition of the ancient Greek 'Agora'; a virtual channel where consumers and American manufacturers come together to exchange ideas, concerns and conduct business. On USAB2C.com, customers can browse an online catalog and order products sourced from USAB2C Certified American through a safe and secure website. The effort to uncover American made products is ongoing."

USAB2C founders are intent on providing products made in the USA that minimize exposure to some inferior materials found at times in Asian imports, particularly seen in toys. The "Made in the USA News" section presents consumers with daily stories dealing with "PRODUCT RECALLS," new product introductions and related retailing / safety news.

Consumers can submit inquiries to USAB2C directly on the "CONTACT US" page:
